

Official message of the DALI working party Symposium on Lighting Control and DALI

Frankfurt, 2nd November 2014

Digital Addressable Lighting Interface

Distinguished audience,

it is with a great pleasure for me, as the Marketing Manager of DALI - a working party of ZVEI, on behalf of the General Manager, the Board of Directors and on my own behalf, to extend a warm welcome to all of you, the participants of the first seminar dedicated to DALI in Israel.

I would like to welcome in particular Mr. Shmuel Auster - Chairman of the Israeli Society of Electrical and Electronics Engineers and Director at the Association of Engineers and Architects in Israel, Dr. Inna Nissenbaum - Chairman of the Israeli Association for Lighting, and last but not least Mr. Marius Gafen - VP Marketing at Virtual Extension and member of our DALI Technical Working Group, who initiated this welcoming note and will be one of your lecturers.

The DALI working party was founded in 2000 by leading international manufacturers in the field of lamp and luminaire control. Over the last year DALI has seen big changes in terms of new organisational resources, active member work groups, increased memberships and breakthrough in interoperability procedures. Today, with almost 110 international members and with the solid framework of the expanding IEC 62386, DALI is the true globally open digital lighting standard for professional digital lighting, with more and more international professional enterprises showing a tremendous and justified interest in being part of DALI community. Further activity is being implemented the next year, including developing competences programmes for the market.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to all of you for the confidence that you show in DALI by attending this seminar and learning about the latest developments in this vibrant and exiting lighting control technology. I wish this seminar to be very fruitful and productive for you.

Sincerely yours,

Yves Leboucher,
Marketing Manager
DALI - a working party of ZVEI